INCORPORATING ANCESTRAL PRACTICES AS THERAPISTS

BY DRA. SUSANA O. SALGADO

This plática will provide a general foundation for integrating ancestral healing practices into the therapeutic process. We will discuss indigenous practices that can be invited into therapeutic spaces to create alignment and as interventions to facilitate growth and well-being for clients. These practices can easily be tailored and used for self-care for therapists. This plática is intended for therapists in training who want to incorporate indigenous practices in their clinical work and whose values also align with non-western forms of healing.
