

Join Us at the Village of Hope in Tustin Thurs., October 28, 2010, 1:00-2:30 pm

Did you know there are 35,000 homeless people in Orange County? Orange County has the third largest homeless population of any major urban area in the United States, after New York City and San Francisco.

Learn how Pepperdine gives back to the community through our partnership with The Village of Hope, a 192-bed transitional housing program near our Irvine campus for homeless men, women and children.

This is an excellent opportunity for students on both the MA and MACLP track!

- Learn about possible traineeships
- Learn about a great referral for clients facing homelessness
- Find out about volunteer opportunities

The Village of Hope is located just three miles from Pepperdine's Irvine campus:
